

Celebrate Wins and Make Improvements Table

Questions to Consider	Example Response*	Response
“What’s working well?” (How do we know?) “Who is better off and by how much?” “How do we share this information?”	Use data to determine if goals are being met and by how much. Determine if this is a win that could be shared publicly with external partners.
“If results are worse than expected or do not meet the established targets, why?” “If results are good and are meeting targets, should it be expanded?” “How can efforts be sustained or improved?” “Are there any unintended consequences that we need to address?”	Use data to inform decisions about modified, expanded, continued/ discontinued activities.
“Is there an opportunity to make improvements?” “What needs to change to see better results?”	Use data, including qualitative data collected through informal conversations with police officers, to inform decisions about modified, expanded, continued/discontinued activities.

*Example responses are included in the column to the right of each corresponding question and are based on a naloxone leave-behind program.
